Daniel, Deb - I have asked Clifford Chance to send the draft surrender documentation to Weil Gotshal in London - as previously stated this provides for a preservation of the claim in the sum of £262.5m so it has no impact on the guarantee. Please note that provision of the document will be made on a strict confidentiality basis. As far as Clifford Chance were aware they had addressed all the questions posed by Weil Gotshal on a call a week ago so it is disappointing to find that they are not in a position to report and we do not want to find that we miss the December 15th date because of this delay. Stating the obvious, we could have provided the surrender agreement a week ago. Can you please ensure that the stipulation is filed in time to make the next Lehman hearing date on the 15th

Kind regards

Pamela

Deb - I apologize for the slight delay but our US counsel needs to feel comfortable about the effect of this termination agreement - this should be done beginning of next week - D

Pamela-

Our counsel in the UK will be reaching out to Clifford Chance in the UK to obtain a copy of the draft surrender agreement. We would like to make sure we understand the impact, if any, that such arrangement has on the guarantee prior to executing the stipulation. I will provide you with an update once they have had a chance to review.
